PRODUCTS

2-LAYER TANKS

They consist of an outer protective layer for strength and UV resistance and an inner food-grade layer that keeps water safe and hygienic, making them a reliable and economical choice for everyday water storage

3-LAYER TANKS

They consist of an outer UV-resistant layer, a middle layer for added strength and insulation, and an inner food-grade layer that keeps water safe and hygienic, ensuring superior durability and better water protection.

LOFT TANKS

Loft tanks are compact water storage tanks designed to be installed in indoor spaces such as lofts, kitchens, and bathrooms. Made from high-quality polyethylene using rotational moulding, they are lightweight, durable, leak-proof, and ideal for storing water where space is limited.

WATER TANKS

Kuber Pipes Pvt. Ltd. manufactures high-quality rotational moulded polyethylene water storage tanks designed for durability, hygiene, and long service life. Using advanced rotational moulding technology, polyethylene material is heated and rotated inside a mould to create a seamless, one-piece tank with uniform wall thickness, ensuring superior strength and leak-proof performance.

Our range includes 2-layer and 3-layer water storage tanks available under the trusted product names MARGO, GANGAPYAARI, and PRAGATI. Selected models are manufactured in accordance with ISI standards, ensuring reliable quality and safety for potable water storage.

The tanks are produced using high-grade, UV-stabilized polyethylene, which protects them from harsh sunlight, weather exposure, and environmental stress, making them ideal for residential, commercial, and agricultural applications

Kuber Pipes Pvt. Ltd. manufactures 3-layer rotational moulded loft tanks designed for compact spaces while maintaining exceptional strength and durability. These tanks are specially developed for installation in indoor loft areas, kitchens, bathrooms, and utility spaces where space is limited but reliable water storage is essential.

Manufactured using advanced rotational moulding technology, the tanks are formed as a seamless single-piece structure, ensuring excellent structural strength and eliminating the risk of leakage. The three-layer construction enhances the tank's toughness and longevity — the outer layer provides UV resistance and external protection, the middle layer adds structural strength and durability, and the inner food-grade layer ensures hygienic and safe water storage.

Despite their compact design, Kuber loft tanks are sturdy, impact-resistant, and built to withstand daily usage and environmental stress, making them a dependable solution for modern homes.

These tanks are available in capacities ranging from 100 litres to 500 litres, offering a practical and efficient water storage solution for indoor applications where conventional tanks cannot be installed
